MS. TAHSEEN AFTAB

In the past three months, we have diligently ensured smooth transitions for our students while maintaining our high standards. Through comprehensive observations and assessments, we tailored our approaches to meet each child's needs and guided several students to new learning settings. By continuing to implement the Montessori method, we promoted hands-on learning, self-directed activity, and collaborative play, fostering independence. We also maintained strong teacher-student interactions and engaged parents to create a supportive home-school connection.

We eagerly anticipate the new academic year, ready to welcome new students and support their growth. Together, we will nurture a love of learning and help each child reach their full potential.

MS. SABA AFREEN

We have been dedicated to nurturing each child's learning experience. Over the past three months, we focused on shifting students to new environments after thorough observations and assessments related to each Montessori subject to figure out the best learning path for them. The children have been engaged in several activities and fun events, including creative projects and our Playful Fun Week, which featured a variety of engaging activities.

As we enter the new academic year, we are excited to continue fostering a stimulating and supportive learning environment for all students.

SMART PARENTING TIP

CULTIVATE RESPONSIBILITY EARLY

Giving your child small responsibilities at an early age, like tidying toys or setting the table, helps them become more responsible. These tasks teach accountability, boost confidence, and foster independence. By starting with simple chores, you lay the foundation for them to grow into dependable and self-sufficient individuals. Encouraging early responsibility is a key aspect of smart parenting that benefits both your child and the family.

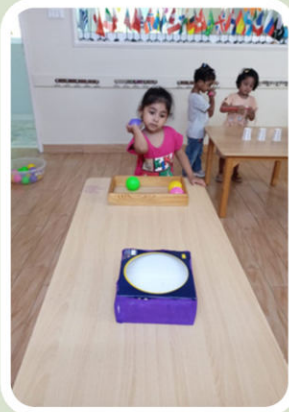

“ The greatest gifts we can give our children are the roots of responsibility and the wings of independence ”

FUN WEEK

Before closing our academic year, we arranged a fun-filled Fun Week for our students to celebrate their hard work and achievements. They enjoyed a variety of exciting activities, from colour days and games to storytelling day, movie day, and a Good Bye Party. This week was a delightful reminder of our commitment to making learning enjoyable and engaging. As we prepare to welcome the new academic year, we do so with renewed enthusiasm and excitement for the opportunities ahead.
